It is with great anxiety that I see the discipline of amateur radio being thrown out so a few ,who will not try to learn ,my have certain privileges. I am a new Extra Class Amature radio operator (AG4QG). In January 2001 I got my Technicians ticket went on to option my Generals class the following year then within three month obtained my Extra class license. I did this with very hard work and discipline. Stop and think before you act. Do not make the same mistake that you did with the eleven-meter band (CB). If you drop the code requirement every trucker and rough in the country will be on the ten-meter band and it will be unenforceable as the eleven-meter ban has become. Pandora's box one again.

Quistion? What will happen to the CW portion of the band? Will you turn it over to voice or will you sell it to the highest bidder? With PLB and all the spectrum fights what will happen to amateur radio in the future. Please LOOK at this issue very close. We do not have to follow the rest of the world. We must lead our country and people in the right direction and teach them the correct ways so as to produce a better and more responsibile class of operators in amateur radio.

Thank You Very Much,
